

I am delighted to announce the winners of the Corero 2008 Award Recognition Competition. The winners have been selected by their colleagues on the basis of their contribution to the business in the second half of 2008. I would personally like to congratulate them and thank them for their efforts. I would also like to thank all the staff at Corero for their hard work and for the excellent results Corero achieved in the past twelve months.

"Mark was challenged in 2008 to embrace and implement the new technologies being rolled out to the BSD clients. Not only has Mark met and exceeded the challenge, he has, in parallel, continued to provide an excellent internal support service, which often involves him working late into the night and at weekends."

Pat is a highly respected member of the BSD Team and will be a key figure in the further development of the Resource Product Suite."

Bernard Snowe, Director Business Systems

A recent quote received from a Resource customer: "Patrick has an excellent manner, is a real pleasure to work with and obviously has extensive knowledge of the Resource Web products. We had an extremely useful day, and all our issues have been addressed and resolved, we are extremely happy."

"Paul Rose has been a dedicated and key part of the Blue Curve team since 1999. In 2008 he once again brought his considerable knowledge, experience and skill to bear on a number of key projects. Thanks to Paul, we have produced a significant upgrade to Blue Curve Process, which has given us a new and desirable product to sell to customers and prospects. Paul also worked as part of the team that completed a number of important and complex client projects.
